MAJLIS ALDERSHOT SOUTH

ALDERSHOT SOUTH VOICES FOR PEACE INTERFAITH EVENT

One World Many Faiths brought together representatives of different faiths to present the importance of peace in their religion. Aldershot South was joined by Aldershot North, Farnham and Ash for this event which was set for Sunday 14th January at St George’s church in Badshot Lea.

An organising group of Sadrs with National Tabligh secretary and Naib Ameer sahib, was formed to plan the event after which an invitation card was designed by a Lajna member. This was sent via email and Whatsapp by jamaat members to contacts and local politicians. Sadr sahib Aldershot South also delivered leaflets to local homes in Badshot Lea.

On the day, Khuddam and Ansar teams set up the hall with Lajna providing table decor before guests began arriving and we’re greeted with drinks and introduced to Jamaat and the event.

A video introduction was shown detailing the background and history of the Ahmadiyya Muslim Community, and its work around the world.

The faith speeches got underway with Buddhist monk Ven Khenpo Karma Tsultrim from the Buddhist Community centre UK, based in Aldershot, who began by saying that Buddhism teaches that everyone deserves eternal peace which is much needed, with ignorance and lack of understanding being a main cause of suffering in the world. He went on to explain that peace must be built by becoming free from negativity and embracing love, compassion and wisdom.

Shalomolaikum is a common Jewish greeting of peace, began Tina Higgins from Kingston Liberal Synagogue. Jewish texts teach compassion and peace, and the entire Torah is for the sake of ‘Shalom’. In Judaism there are three things that preserve the world – truth justice and peace.

Reverend Stella Wiseman from the Parish of Badshot Lea and Hale was next and showed one of the beatitudes in Christianity is ‘blessed are the peacemakers. With so much conflict around the world, often caused by humiliation, learning to love one another as God loves each of us is a solution, and that peace teaches us love patience and understanding.

Scholar and Jamaat Outreach coordinator Ibrahim Ikhlaḥ began by saying that without returning to God, one cannot attain peace which, in Islam, is the outcome of justice. It's not might which is right, it is right which is might. Referring to the situation in Palestine, Mr Ikhlaḥ was unequivocal in his condemnation of the actions of Hamas on 7th October as well as Israel's ongoing retaliation, saying "what Israel is doing is against the spirit of the Torah". He continued, "we should not take sides, we should take the side of justice which will lead to peace."

The event included the Voices For Peace campaign which was started by worldwide spiritual leader of the Ahmadiyya Muslim Community, His Holiness Mirza Masroor Ahmad, in response to the ongoing conflict and suffering in Gaza. The campaign, running on social media as #VoicesForPeace, calls for an immediate ceasefire to bring an end to the war in Gaza and establish a lasting peace based on justice.

After the faith presentations, Labour party Parliamentary candidate for Aldershot, Alex Baker, had the opportunity to speak to the audience paying tribute to faith based communities. She said more events like this were needed as they showed we have more in common than not. She continued by saying that as people of faith it's really important to use your vote.

The Mayor of Rushmoor, Cllr Clive Grattan thanked the faith speakers and volunteers putting on the event, and commenting on the Ahmadiyya Muslim Community's voluntary work such as helping food banks, fundraising etc. He added his hope that everyone would work towards world peace together.

Vice president of AMA UK, Attaul Qudoos Ahmad, was the the final speaker and read some quotes of His Holiness Mirza Masroor Ahmad, concerning the ongoing situation in Gaza. He concluded by commenting that working together hand in hand sends a powerful message.

After the formal programme, guests had time to chat with Jamaat members and learn about the Ahmadiyya Muslim Community over a meal and view an exhibition of the Holy Qur'an in many different languages.

Feedback from guests:

"The event was wonderful – lovely to have time to think about how we can work together towards world peace and to meet members of your community." – Alex Baker

"It was a lovely and positive evening." – Stella Wiseman

"It was a wonderful event that spread nothing but peace and unity not just between our religions but also in the community. I went on my own and was made to feel very welcomed by everyone and I hope that another event like this can happen again the future." – Blake Porter (guest)
